

Christmas is the Best Time for Remembering Special Friends Like You

Dear Linda,

I'm sorry it didn't work out to get together in Boston, but I'm sure there was a reason. They got about 10" of snow on Friday night, so it may have been one of those "camp out at the airport" trips. We'll have to pray about another opportunity.

I will be going to Dallas between Christmas and New Year to see Harriol. I need to get away to awhile and reevaluate my life. It sounds like you and Al are doing very well and settling in. Are you planning on staying in Oregon for awhile longer?

My life is pretty much the same old thing. I've had an aggravating time at work (cleaning houses is beginning to sound interesting again). It seems like a change is overdue. I wish I could offer you a place to stay if you come to Mystic but this is not agreeable to my Mother. If you decide maybe we could work something out. you are coming

let me know when and Love, Nikki
