

Linda!

Havent forgotten you, just busy, busy! Trying to get started for Christmas, Wally's sister stayed with us a couple of weekends ago, and I'm going to my mom's this weekend. Love my new job! I got an evaluation a couple of weeks ago, the best one in my life. It's so laid back, and we also decorate office buildings for Christmas so it's fun too! I've got some craft projects going for Christmas presents. My sponsor, April, adopted 2 kids from Russia, and works for the adoption agency. They are doing a drive for supplies for the orphanages and Jim & April are having an open house to help out (I'm helping)

My car needs some big work (big $) and we need a Refrigerator
so I'm on a spending FREEZE (sort of) IF you are in town
make sure you call me - we can have lunch or something.
I was so glad to see you at the convention - we need to keep in touch!
